Working Together

Neighbors and businesses working together to create a green and healthy future -- That is the work of Sustainable Business Networks.

SBN encourages networks working together, such as:

BALLE - The Business Alliance for Local Living Economies

Keep Louisville Weird, Louisville Independent Business Association

Co-op America

National Green Pages

Bluegrass Energy and Green Living Expo

Berea Trading Post

Sustainable Communities Network

Sustainable Business Networks

Imagine Louisville!

Sustainable Louisville

Louisville Green Pages

Open Louisville

- And many others.

Supporting our existing and new networks to grow and learn from each other helps us move quickly towards sustainability.

Going Green and Local

Sustainable Business

Working with neighborhoods and communities to "do good while doing well."

We•re committed to socially and environmentally responsible business and development practices:

How can businesses support sustainable neighborhoods and ecosystems?

How can we support green & local businesses?

Learning to make smart choices:

For local food, solar building, renewable energy, green procurement, fair trade, fair wages, diversity, community wellness, media democracy and more.

We are working to build a liveable local economy.

Working together, businesses and consumers can add value through green and community-appropriate design, development and business practices.

"Thinking globally and acting locally" increases neighborhood livability, local prosperity and earth•s well being.
